Flash is a software platform for creating and displaying rich Internet applications (RIAs) that can run within a web browser. It is a cross-platform software that can be used to create interactive content that can be viewed on a wide range of devices, including desktop computers, laptops, tablets, and smartphones. Flash content is typically created using Adobe Flash Professional and is distributed as a SWF file. It is often used for animations, interactive presentations, and rich media content. However, Flash has been largely replaced by HTML5 and CSS3 for modern web development due to its security vulnerabilities and performance issues.

✓ Iframe `<iframe src="...">`

An iframe is an HTML element that allows you to embed another document inside the current document. It is used to display content from a different source, such as a video, a map, or a social media widget. The content is loaded from the specified source and is displayed within the boundaries of the iframe. It is a useful tool for creating complex web pages that require content from multiple sources. However, it can also be used for malicious purposes, such as phishing or displaying ads from untrusted sources. It is important to use iframes carefully and to ensure that the content is from a trusted source.
